

CLAREMONT CIVIC ASSOCIATION

AGE VERIFICATION FORM

Claremont is operated as a community of housing for older persons. That status means that Claremont and other communities created for occupants age 55 and older are exempt from charges of familial status discrimination in housing (which usually involves discrimination against children). To retain this exemption, we are required to document and maintain records on the ages of our residents.

The Federal Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 as amended, and the Housing for Older Persons Act of 1995 require that 80 percent of the residential units of Claremont must have at least one resident age 55 years or older: and no person under the age of 18 years of age may reside in any residential unit.
